About

From an early age, I have had an interest in technology and in knowing how things are made. With this curiosity and the variety of content offered, I graduated in Multimedia. I was taught how to work with a wide range of programs and tools, each one focused on the respective field. I work with photography, video, 3D, design and programming.

My personal goals are to learn and master these tools in a way I can create immersive and fun content.

I am interested in 3D animation and in game design, more specifically in gameplay programming.

My current hobbies are 3D modelling and animation, playing video games, skateboarding, and many other things...
